

The Chapels Royal of St Peter ad Vincula and St John the Evangelist HM Tower of London

Dear friends,

This coming Sunday, January 25th, is our last Sunday in St Peter ad Vincula until the scaffolding, which is to cover the chapel and enable work on the roof to begin, is in place. The work is expected to take up to six weeks.

From February 1st, the Sunday morning service will take place in the White Tower at 0930.

Once the scaffolding is firmly fixed, we will be able to return to St Peter ad Vincula, albeit under a shroud of tarpaulin. I know Cortland mentioned this in last week's Newsletter, but I wanted to remind you again. Please could you make a special effort to be here on Sunday? There will be coffee after church and time to mix and chat before we have six weeks without a choir and with a service of Said Holy Communion only.

At the start of a New Year, can I remind those of you who don't already have a Chapel Pass (and it's much easier to get into the Tower with one!) that all you need to get one is to provide a passport photo with your name clearly written on the back, and Debbie (the Chapel Administrator) will make one up for you.

For your prayers, please remember Bishop Sarah, who on the 28th of January, is confirmed as the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The Conversion of St Paul, 25th January 2026

Acts 26: 16b 'I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you to serve and testify to the things in which you have seen me and to those in which I will appear to you'.

There are many occasions in the letters of St Paul where he speaks of his conversion but one theme we often overlook is that Paul knew conversion was far from being a one-off event. A question that is often asked of me (and I suspect of all clergy) is: 'When did you first have a calling to the priesthood?'. At the tender age of 23 I stepped forward and offered myself for training and ultimately for full-time ministry. I saw myself as nothing else but a parish priest. How wrong I was! I expected to finish my curacy and take on a parish, instead of which I ended up an army chaplain, where my first appointment was to north-west Germany. Seventeen homes later and after a ministry that took me all over the world, I then found myself as Chaplain to the Tower of London – a long way from where I originally thought God was calling me to be. I would argue that all the places, moments and experiences during that time have been conversions. None was a one-off event but more like a series of beads on a long piece of string; God had a different plan for me from that for St Paul. Paul says Jesus told him that he would testify to the things in which the Lord appeared to him. He would keep being converted, day by day, to fulfil God's purpose for him. I hope you feel that your experiences and faith have been like those of St Paul, a series of conversions, with more adventures ahead for you.

With my best wishes, thoughts and prayers for you all, Roger.

Prayer for the week

Every time I listen to the news or read the papers, they are full of details of troubles and conflicts. I get increasingly more anxious about the world we live in, constant threats of takeovers and instability, all of which seem to be growing. However, in the face of such turmoil, both at home and abroad, the Church offers stability and calm and the quiet regularity of our rhythm of worship and prayers which, I believe, can be one of the anchors so many people crave and need. This week I have chosen a Celtic prayer, often called a Community Prayer. It begins with the words The blessing of him, who stilled the storm, drawing from both Mark 4:39 and Psalm 107:29. I hope you will use the prayer as we make our way through the storms of life. Some people have used this prayer before they go to bed, when they commend the night and following day to God.

Community Prayer

The blessing of him
who stilled the storm,
the blessing of peace,
and a deep new calm,
the blessing of joy
come to your mind.
The blessing of love
help you unwind.
Peace in your dealings,
peace in your days,
peace in your living,
and God be praise.

Peace between me
and each friend.
Peace in the morning
and at the day's end.
Peace in each hour
and in the whole day.
Peace on my journey
and all of the way.
Peace in the work
that I need to do.
Peace in my life,
peace comes from you.

All those killed in the recent train crash in southern Spain, near Córdoba.

Please continue to pray for peace in Ukraine and the countries of the Middle East:

God of peace and justice, we pray for the people of Ukraine and the Middle East today.

We pray for peace and the laying down of weapons.

We pray for all those who fear for tomorrow,
that your Spirit of comfort would draw near to them.

We pray for those with power over war or peace,
for wisdom, discernment, and compassion to guide their decisions.

Above all, we pray for all your precious children, at risk and in fear, that you would hold and protect them.

This we pray in the name of Jesus, the Prince of peace. Amen.

With best wishes to all, Roger.
